Have an old phone? A tablet that doesn't work? Or a laptop that is outdated?

Get rid of your old electronics in an eco-friendly way. The First United Church of Christ, Austinburg, in cooperation with Goodwill Northeast Ohio and Northwest Pennsylvania, is holding a Countywide E-Waste Recycling Event at 2870 Rt. 307, Austinburg on April 23rd from 9 am to 3 pm. As devices are updated, it is important to dispose of old ones in a way that is simple and secure. Phones, tablets, ipads, MP3 players, ipods, printers, computers (laptops & desktops) will be accepted along with ink cartridges and old cables. The safety of the device's original owner is assured.

As our society moves to be more environmentally friendly and responsible, collecting E-Scrap is an important part of the equation. Benefits from electronic recycling include a cleaner environment, reuse of resources, and advantages for the economy. Goodwill is a leader in the 'reduce, reuse and recycle' model and partner with Dell in the "ReConnect Program" that expands the life of unwanted electronics through environmentally responsible disposal. These companies are leaders in advancing sustainability and First UCC is excited to work with them in bringing this event to Ashtabula County residents.

The event will be manned by BSA Troop 52G of Saybrook. The Scouts will be available to collect and stockpile the electronics. Residents need only to follow the signs and drive through the parking lot to drop off. There is no charge to bring your electronic waste and no limit to the number of items accepted. Contact the Church at (440) 275-5125 or visit the website austinburgfirstucc.org for more information.
